To my parents: Thanks for your sacrifices, hard work and unconditional love. If I could choose any two people in the world for parents, I would choose you. I'm so proud you are my parents. To my brothers and sisters: A special thank you to you and your children (pictured below), who have been a source of light and happiness to me. To Matt: You are my best friend. Thank you for your love, support and understanding.

What can I give Him, poor as I am?

If I were a shepherd, I would give Him a lamb.

If I were a wise man, I would do my part.

But what can I give Him? Give Him my heart.

From "The Morning Prayer of the Physician"

O God, let my mind be ever clear and enlightened . . For great and noble are those scientific judgments that serve the purpose of preserving the health and lives of Thy creatures. Keep far from me the delusion that I can accomplish all things. Give me the strength, the will, and the opportunity to amplify my knowledge more and more . . .

In the patient let me ever see only the man. Thou All Bountiful One has chosen me to watch over the life and death of Thy creatures. I prepare myself now for my calling. Stand Thou by me in this great task, so that it may prosper. For without thine aid man prospers not even in the smallest things.

- attributed to Moses Maimonides, royal physician

I'd like to thank God for answering all of my prayers, for guiding me down the right paths and for "carrying" me through the tough times. I'd also like to thank my friends for making medical school the memorable experience that it was. Together, we enjoyed the good times and helped each other through the not-so-good times. You made these four years of hard work worth it! Finally. I'd like to thank my family for standing by me, encouraging me and seeing me through some stressful times as well as some setbacks. This meant more to me than you could ever know. You also believed in me which helped me to believe in myself. I dedicate my M.D. to all of you because without your help, this lifelong dream would have never become a reality.

I LOVE YOU!

To laugh often and much; to win respect of intelligent people and affection of children; to leave the world a bit better whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; to know that even one life has breathed easier because you have lived, this is to have succeeded.

'One misses the elementary reaction against injustice and for justice - that reaction which in the long run represents man's only protection against a relapse into barbarism.'

Albert Einstein

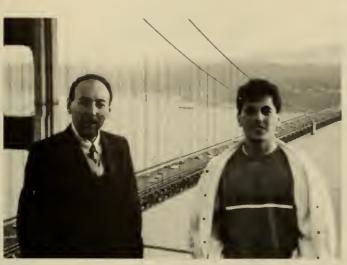

I could not have come along this far if it was not for the help and guidance of many men and women I have come across in my journey through life- many who taught me how to keep my eyes open and my spirit free; many who planted the seeds of knowledge and kindness within me and showed me how to nurture them by seeking the light of truth. They were heroes who taught me how to sail the storms and reach out for the drowning. Many were strangers I did not know, and many were friends I will not see again.

Mona Rewari, M.D.

He dreamed he was walking along the beach with the Lord. Across the sky flashed scenes from his life. For each scene, he noticed two sets of prints in the sand: One belonging to him, and the other to the Lord. When the last scene of his life flashed before him, He looked back at the footprints in the sand. He noticed that at many times along the path of his life, There was only one set of footprints. He also noticed that it happened at the very lowest And saddest times in his life. This really bothered him and he questioned the Lord about it. "Lord, you said that once I decided to follow you, You'd walk with me all the way. But I have noticed that during the most troublesome times, There is only one set of footprints. I don't understand why when I needed you most You would leave me. The Lord replied, "My precious child, I love you and would never leave you. During your times of trial and suffering,

- unknown

When you see only one set of footprints, It was then that I carried you."

One night a man had a dream.

Craig Stewart Ruggles, M.D.

Many people have been very important in helping me along this long road, among them -

Dr. Johanna Shapiro, mentor, friend, and colleague: for her unflagging support, intellectual inspiration, and overwhelming generosity;

Dr. Marjorie Bowman, my former 'boss:" for her flexibility and understanding in allowing me to complete pre-medical classes while teaching at Bowman Gray School of Medicine;

Drs. Charles Puglia and James England, visionaries and advocates: for being terrific role models and teachers, and for their ability to draw out knowledge in a skillful and non-threatening manner;

Dr. Marc Newman, radical family physician and social scientist: for his infectious enthusiasm, listening ear, and his encouragement to follow my instincts:

Many student colleagues, including Drs. Evan Oakes, Mandy Rappaport, Patrick Snowman, Therese Alban, Susan Snyder, Karin Borgmann-Winter, Matthew Cahill, Marie Bailey, and Linda Hunter: for sharing in the great pleasure of commiserating and complaining, and after it is all said and done, having a heck of alot of fun together;

My parents Don and Jeanette, siblings Wendy and Brad Krawiecki, Sue and Mike Brooks, and Tom and Nancy Walsh: for abiding yet "one more degree," and loving and supporting me even when getting a second doctorate seemed like a crazy, impossible idea;

To all - my heartfelt thanks. Your investment in me has meant more than anything I could have hoped for and given meaning to the difficult times. You have enriched me, taught me, and helped me to grow.

The tools are at an undifferentiated center of a circle that has no circumference, moving and yet not moving, in tension and yet relaxed, seeing everything happening and yet not at all anxious about its outcome, with nothing purposely designed, nothing consciously calculated, no anticipation, no expectation--in short, standing innocently like a baby and yet, with all the cunning, subterfuge and keen intelligence of a fully mature mind.

And now, O Lord, I dedicate my body and soul unto Thee. Anoint Thy servant with Holy Spirit and Wisdom to heal and comfort the suffering and the lost. May my life be glorifying unto Thee

It is not in the still calm of life, or repose of a pacific station, that great characters are formed. The habits of a vigorous mind are formed in contending with difficulties. All history will convince you of this, and that wisdom and penetration are the fruit of experience, not the lessons of retirement and leisure. Great necessities call out great virtues. When a mind is raised and animated by scenes that engage the heart, then those qualities which would otherwise lie dormant wake into life and form the character of the hero.

To all the faculty and staff who have contributed to our education:

"A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step."

L. Tze

We, the class of 1996, would like to thank you for being our teachers and mentors. You have helped us through our many first steps, and we shall carry these unforgettable experiences with us through the remainder of our journeys.

In Memoriam

Lesley Jane Boyne-Hoffman

Dr. Lesley Jane Boyne-Hoffman died on February 7, 1996 at Medical College of Pennsylvania Hospital of complications from ovarian cancer. She is survived by her husband, John Hoffman, and daughter, Katey.

Dr. Boyne-Hoffman had been a postdoctoral fellow in the department of Neurobiology and Anatomy since 1992. In addition to her ongoing research for which she was nationally recognized, Dr. Boyne-Hoffman taught Gross Anatomy and Neuroscience at MCP. She was felt to be an outstanding teacher and will be missed greatly by all the students. Our thoughts and condolences are with her family and friends.

armest Congratulations to the Medical College of Pennsylvania Class of 1996
